Community Outreach:
Ongoing Programming

Many girls face obstacles to participating in a traditional Girl Scout troop, such as membership fees, adults with less time to volunteer and a lack of transportation to and/or from meetings and activities. Girl Scouts of Ohio’s Heartland Community Outreach program breaks down those barriers and provides girls with meaningful Girl Scout experiences in a girl-centric, girl-only environment.

Thanks to generous donations made throughout the year, we provide over 2,500 girls with Outreach programming.
